

Service List

When it comes to Translations, we are at your service.

Human Translation (HT)

From patents to Safety Data Sheets (SDSs)/labels, product catalogs, ISO manuals, SAP training documents and much more, GLTaC offer accurate technical translations of your documents.

GLTaC's skilled native-language translators have degrees and/or work experience in the subject area, greatly increasing the initial quality and reducing the overall time it takes to do a translation. In addition, the GLTaC reviewers have the same qualifications plus the added responsibility of ensuring your documents contain consistent terminology usage and are error-free.

Combining this talented linguistic staff with experienced project managers creates a team focused on exceeding your expectations every time. GLTaC is the premier SDS translation service available today. GLTaC's clients include many of the top SDS Authoring Software systems and major chemical companies.

Interpretation

Whether you need Over-The-Phone (OPI) interpreting, Video-Remote-Interpreting (VRI), or in-person on-site interpreting, GLTaC offers a range of interpreting services.

Review

When you have previously translated material and want a review by an industry expert, or would like a review to ensure the initial translation was done correctly, GLTaC offers a Review service to provide reliable translation information that you can act upon.

Phrase Sourcing

One of the many ways GLTaC is unique within the language service industry is GLTaC's ability to help clients identify the correct regulatory reference for a phrase. GLTaC works with clients to ensure the phrase translations are correct and compliant with published Environmental Health and Safety (EHS) regulations worldwide. Finding the correct reference and knowing where to look within a reference is a challenge for many EHS professionals, especially when the target language is unfamiliar to them.

Chemical and Species Names

Chemical and species names are often difficult to translate, becoming as much a research effort as a translation effort. GLTaC has experts in the fields of chemistry, biology and toxicology who are able to correctly translate these uniquely challenging items.

American Sign Language (ASL)

ASL is a staple at business meetings, conferences, or wherever the hearing-impaired are in attendance. GLTaC offers ASL as part of GLTaC's range of services.

Voice Over

From script translation to voice talent, GLTaC offers the ability to translate your training material, product videos or marketing Compact Disks (CDs) from English into the language of your global clients.

Web Integration

GLTaC has the ability to integrate the GLTaC Translation Management System directly with your document management systems. This streamlines the translation process, allowing your company's content manager to request a document in a different language by indicating which language is needed, along with a due date. The request is automatically forwarded to GLTaC. When the translated file is ready, it is uploaded back into your system with a notification sent to the requester. All transactions on the existing site are processed using a VeriSign security certificate.

Localization

GLTaC can localize your web site, taking it beyond mere translation and reviewing the site to ensure it conforms to local customs and practices, is user-friendly in the target language, and conveys the information in a way that is appealing to the target audience.

Desktop Publishing (DTP)

GLTaC can translate brochures, posters or other marketing literature in PC or Mac versions of Ventura Publisher or Quark Express, in most common Asian or European languages.
