GLTaC has earned a reputation as a trusted, reliable provider of military translations. Whether you have a single document or a large volume of material, GLTaC has the experience and skilled staff to handle your translation needs.

GLTaC has assembled unique language capabilities for areas of current interest around the globe. Our track record and past performance stand out as demonstrated proof of our ability to deliver accurate and technically correct translations. Our efforts to identify and qualify linguists with recent military experience ensure the correct translation of the source document into the target language. When combined with our stringent Quality Control (QC) methodology, we deliver accurate, complete translations that faithfully reproduce the original.

GLTaC is both ISO and ASTM certified, consistent with the goal of ensuring quality and customer satisfaction. The commitment to excellence is demonstrated with each project delivered. The project managers ensure each project is completed correctly and according to the client's specifications.

GLTaC believes in doing business with old-fashioned customer care values enabled by world-class proprietary software developed in-house by GLTaC to deliver excellence to each and every client.

In addition to the secure, proprietary Translation Management System (TMS), GLTaC uses a variety of software to maximize the efficiency, consistency, and quality of the translation process. Where possible, existing translations are leveraged for greater cost savings and translation time reduction. The processes and tools are continually evaluated and upgraded to ensure the maximum benefit is provided to the clients.

Finally, GLTaC is a member of the Association of Language Companies (ALC). ALC is the only association dedicated solely to owners of translation and interpreting companies and serves as a focal point for the language industry in the United States. ALC members are committed to a high standard of business conduct and share best practices for the industry among themselves. With more than 26,000 translation companies to choose from worldwide, finding the right one can be a daunting task. No matter what the translation needs may be: educational materials, inter-agency documents, policies, patents, contracts, technical articles, or related items, GLTaC stands ready to serve you. Let GLTaC compete for and earn your business!
